Dear Mark & Misty,

This letter is being sent at the behest of Dick Schreiber. We've become friends since new ownership came to our company a year and a half ago. Recently when we discussed his best career candidates I offered to write to a medical doctor in Arizona, then Dick's sister, and now you.

At 28 I was finishing my tour as a Vietnam era Navy pilot. Eight months after discovering network marketing at an Amway meeting I switched to Shaklee and caught a growth wave with that company. Three years later I reached Shaklee's highest rank and for 17 years enjoyed a great career, although the last few years were in conflict. I was making big money but was at odds with management about where they were taking the company. Seven very broke years after leaving Shaklee I caught another wave—this time with Alpine Industries. I paid off $300K in debt and in my best year made just over a million dollars.

Bottom line: I have some experience at spotting a company at its right time. The time is nigh again. The recession kicked our economy in the gut, and we can't change that. But we have nowhere to go but up. And there's something going on you may not know about. A new baby boom started in 1980 (check Echo Boom or visit: <http://www.cbsnews.com/stories/2004/10/01/60minutes/main646890.shtml>).

Find the right company to join NOW and you can ride this new growth wave for 25 years or longer!

Every year the new "boom" dumps 4 million more young consumers into the marketplace. The success of smart phones and iPads shows how powerful this boom really is.

When it comes to network marketing, we are the company. I'm enclosing our DVD-movie and here's the code for the easy-to-use recruiting system we have developed: www.MillionFriends.info. Even though I've caught two big growth booms and made $15 million in 40.5 years as a networker, I've never seen the circumstances lined up as beautifully as they are now.

As the owner of an Electrolux franchise, you certainly have the skills to cash in on this situation. I don't promise that any business opportunity will be easy. Even when times are good, there's still no free lunch. But there's a wonderful lunch for those who want to take things seriously; and I'd like to work with Dick to help you do just that. We propose to take you to the Ruby level where an income of $93,000 to $390,000 can be developed over a one- to three-year period. There are 11 levels beyond Ruby. The sky is the limit if you want to go farther.

Mark & Misty, I am eager to hear if this mailing has stimulated your thinking. If you agree with my discussion and want to give Vollara a try, my support will be there for you and for the people you recruit. I support the Million Friends system with conference calls, the chippynews.com website, newsletters, email, meetings, and more.

Here's where I stand. This special boom time is easily worth an all-out 4-year effort. At that point I'll be 72, my daughter will be in college, and I plan to do some serious world travel!

Dick has set his goal to be a Double Diamond (2 levels above Ruby). The income range at DD goes up to $780,000 per year. I'm sure his vision for you is similar.

What do you think?

Sincerely,

Here are some photos with my wife and daughter. Life is good. All of my success has come from applying the concepts that are now in the Million Friends program.
